Twenty-third street, a member of the Professional Woman's League, went to the Wild West show at Ambrose Park with that organization against her husband's wishes. Returning she found that her wrathful spouse had abandoned her, so she went off to dinner with William Watson, an actor of 57 West Thirty-second street. After dinner she went streetcar riding with Watson on Sixth avenue.
Her husband, who is also an actor, followed, and the two men had a fight, which led to their arrest. Both were bailed out, and both appeared in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning.
Watson, who is young and stout, had a green patch over his right eye. Carhart, who is fifty, and slight, looked as though he had been struck with a beer trailet four or five times over the left faw. He was a sight, and complained of his bones.
